I. Purpose

The Middle East Public Opinion Survey (Syria 2016), through the analysis of tally and quantitation of results of the opinion survey conducted on the Syrians, has the purpose of (1) grasping how the Syrians view other countries in terms of politics, social economy and culture, and (2) proposing what contributions should be made to the Syrian politics, social economy and culture.

II. Cooperative Organizations and Collaborative Research Projects

In conducting the survey, we have had full support of the Syrian Opinion Center for Polls & Studies (SOCPS) مركز الرأي السوري (الاستطلاع والدراسات) to finalize the contents of the questionnaire, doing samplings, making interviews with poll subjects and inputting data. Coordination with the SOCPS was made en bloc by AOYAMA Hiroyuki (professor of the Tokyo University of Foreign Studies), the representative for the ‘Non-State Actors and Political Structures in the Middle East after the Arab Spring’.

Also, in making preparations for the public opinion survey and processing data, we had the cooperation of the “Studies of Political Order and Political Changes in the Middle East” (Scientific research fund subsidy projects for 2015-2018 (Basic research (B) 15H03308), represented by HAMANAKA Shingo (professor of Ryukoku University).

III. Method of Public Opinion Survey

1. Survey schedule

- September 30, 2015: Permission granted to SOCPS for conducting the survey.
- November 19, 2015: Pre-test conducted by SOCPS.
- November 29, 2015: Pre-test conducted again by SOCPS.
- November 30, 2015, through December 4: Contents of the questionnaire finally formulated between SOCPS and the survey teams of the “Middle East Public Opinion Survey (Syria 2016)”, upon incorporating the pre-test results.
- December 27, 2015: Survey staff training conducted by SOCPS.
- December 29, 2015, through January 29, 2016: Opinion survey conducted by SOCPS staffs.

- March 15, 2016: Statistics analysis report completed by SOCPS analysis team.
- March 24, 2016: Analytical report completed by SOCPS analysis team.
- April 7, 2016: Final report completed by SOCPS.

2. Survey subjects

- 1,625 male and female Syrian nationals aged 18 to 65, residing in the Syrian Arab Republic (data of 1,500 questionnaires collected, excluding 125 people who refused to respond).

3. Survey method

- Door-to-door individual personal interview in Arabic.
- Number of survey staffs: 20

4. Method of sampling

Samples to be pulled out in the following manner.

- Rely on the population consensus of 2004 of the Central Statistics Bureau of the Cabinet Office, the demographic estimates of 2011 by said Bureau, and the demographic estimates of 2011 by SOCPS survey team.
- Determine samples by the stratified two-stage random sampling method (cluster sampling in the second stage, with systematic sampling from each cluster).
 - The 1st stage: 6 prefectures are selected from the following 5 geographical districts comprising Syria.
 - Southern Jazeera region (consisting of Hasakah Prefecture, Deir Ezzor Prefecture and Raqqa Prefecture): Hasakah Prefecture
 - Northern region (consisting of Aleppo Prefecture and Idlib Prefecture): Aleppo Prefecture
 - Seashore region (consisting of Lattakia Prefecture and Tartous Prefecture): Lattakia Prefecture
 - Central region (consisting of Hims Prefecture and Hamah Prefecture): Hims Prefecture
 - Southern region (consisting of Damascus Prefecture, Damascus Suburb Prefecture, Quneitra Prefecture, Daraa Prefecture, Sweyda Prefecture): Damascus Prefecture and Damascus Suburb Prefecture
 - The 2nd stage: In each prefecture, 30 clusters (with each cluster consisting of 100-200 households) are selected, representing demographic diversities in ethnicity (religion/sect, native tongue), social attributes, economic attributes and habitat (urban/rural). For clusters in Governorates, refer to “VI. Cluster”.
 - Variables considered in selection of clusters are as follows:
 - 1) Sex (male, female)
 - 2) Age bracket (18-24, 25-35, 36-50, 51-65)
 - 3) Academic level (illiterate, barely literate, elementary education, high-school education, professional school education, university graduate, post-graduate education)
 - 4) Religion
 - 5) Economic level (income, living standard, 3-stage)
 - 6) Social level (3-stage)
 - After cluster selection, select 10 households at random from each cluster and 1 member from each household for interview.
- Sample error

- Prefecture: Since accurate population dynamics are not available due to national and international refugee emigration activated by the Arab Spring, sample distribution within the 6 survey prefectures, Hasakah, Aleppo, Lattakia, Hims and Damascus/Damascus Suburb, was made in equal 300 samples each.
- Substitutes for clusters: Substitute clusters were surveyed for part of the clusters that proved difficult to be interviewed.
- Sex, education level, etc: In the Syrian society, male household members are deemed to be subjects for interview surveys, which tendency has called for more numbers of male than female samples. Numbers of illiterate and barely literate samples have been reduced, considering the rising education levels in Syria.
